How To Read The Stats (Part One)

Bullet point

1. Shots in the paint/midrange/3point shots:
2. If Contested:
3. Passing:
4. Defense Bonus:
5. Rebounding Bonus

Explanation

1. The minimum number needed to make the shot
2. If opposing player(s) are horizontally or vertically next to your offensive player (no space in between)
3. The minimum number that the defense needs to roll to force a turnover
4. Increases an offensive player's minimum number needed to make a shot by whatever number the player card says...(If a player has a defense bonus of +1, then the offensive player being contested must roll a minimum of 5 instead of a 4 to make a shot in the paint)
5. Gives a player an extra number when rolling to get a rebound (normally the offense needs to roll 2 numbers higher than the defense to get an offensive rebound, but if an offensive player with a rebound bonus of "1" is in the paint, then the offense only needs to roll 1 number higher than the defense to get the offensive rebound)

How To Read The Stats (Part Two)

Bullet point

1. Clutch Bonus
2. Strength Bonus

Explanation

1. The number of times you can turn a player to green in the middle of a game (lasts for one possession)...A player that is green needs one less than the normal minimum number to make a shot
2. A player with a strength bonus can move a defender out of the way for however many spaces the card says. (A player with a strength bonus of 2 can move a defender 2 spaces as part of an offensive player's turn.
